SPOKANE LIKES RADCLIFFE.

Organist First Congregational Church Salt Lake Makes Good Impression.

Prof. Thomas Radeliffe, organist at the First Congregational church in this city, has just returned from Spokane, where he dedicated the new organ of Westminster Congregational church, giving two recitals. That he made a favorable impression is evident from the flattering notice in the Spokesman-Review. It follice in the Spokesman-Review. It follows:

Playing under peculiarly difficult circumstances, Thomas Radeliffe, the distinguished organist of Salt Lake, gave the opening recital on the great new organ at Westminster Congregational church last night, and he established beyond cavil a reputation here as a master of his noble instrument.

An audience that nearly filled the church gave him close and sympathetic attention. The organ, a $5000 instrument with ever 1200 pipes, has not been completed and it will be some time before its tone is fairly adjusted. The wisdom of giving the opening recital so soon might be questioned. But it is in every respect a modern instrument, with a pneumatic action which is marvelous in delicacy and quick response. Indeed, it rivals a grand plane in answering the most rapid execution. His third number, "Pastorale" (Theo, Kullak), was a revelation in its tender sentiment and aweet simplicity.

It was followed by the great number of the lak), was a revelation in its tender sentiment and sweet simplicity.

It was followed by the great number of the evening, Bach's teccata and fugue. In D minor, which developed not only the great range of the instrument, but the master craftsmanship of the player. It must rank among the greatest organ numbers ever heard here, and placed Mr. Radeliffe in favorable comparison with Clarence Eddy. It was followed by Batiste's graind offertory, and for an encore his communion—both well played. From then on the programme was admirable.

While in Spokkare Prof. and Mrs. Bad-while in Spokane Prof. and Mrs. Rad-cliffe were entertained by Mrs. James Gendinaing, formerly of this city, and by several other friends who reside in Spo-kane. Mrs. Radcliffe is still in the North-west, and will return by way of the fair, paying a visit to her daughter. Miss Ethel Radcliffe, at Idaho Falls before reaching Sait Lake.

ENGINE RUNS INTO WASHOUT

Two Cars Follow the Big Machine.

Cloudburst Causes a Wreck on the Salt Lake Route.

Traffic Delayed for Several Hours-Engineer Has His Ankle Broken.

A washout resulting from a cloudburst thirty-five miles this side of Las Vegas, Friday morning, was responsible for a small freight wreck on the Salt Lake Route and a thirteen-hour delay of train No. 2. As a result of the storm part of the track was washed out and the engine and two cars of a freight train were derailed. Engineer O'Donnell was running his train east when the washout was encountered. He immediately applied the air brakes and prevented the train from piling up. In the smash his ankle was broken, but otherwise no one was injured. The news of the wreck was immediately wired into headquarters and an outfit was sent from Milford. Superintendent Van Housen hurried to the scene to superintend the reconstruction work, which was completed yesterday afternoon. No. 2 made a quick run into Salt Lake after the delay, arriving here at 7:30 last evening.

SALT LAKER MAY WIN.

Likely to Be Chosen to Represent 'Frisco System in London.

The 'Frisco system is to open an European agency in London. This move has been anticipated some time, as its competitor, the Illinois Central, has al-ready established such an agency. The appointment to this new office may fall to a Salt Lake, J. G. Doolittle, who is the local representative. Mr. Doolittle says that such an appointment is news to him, but his friends predict that he will carry off the plum. He is eminently fitted for the position, as in addition to his hustling qualities, he is an Irishman with a large English acquaint-
